Breast cancer awareness is an effort to reduce the stigma of breast cancer through education on symptoms and treatment. Breast cancer culture, sometimes called pink ribbon culture, is the cultural outgrowth of breast cancer advocacy, the social movement that supports it, and the larger women's health movement. The pink ribbon is the most prominent symbol of breast cancer awareness, and in many countries the month of October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Some national breast cancer organizations receive substantial financial support from corporate sponsorships.

Meet Our Principal,
Dr. Willie C. Goldsmith

"This will be a great year. I expect that we shall be the best in all areas, both academic and athletics."

Word Of The Month

Lomography is style of pop photography based around the quirky cameras by the Austrian camera manufacturer known as Lomo.

Congratulations to Kyla Smith, 8th grade for winning the NAACP Oratorical Contest 2015.

The History Makers visits Green Acres

The History Makers Program took place September 25, 2015 in the school library. Dr. Jeannette Jones, our guest speaker from Alabama A&M, spoke to chosen students about her career and life. She also talked about how to be committed. 'Commit' was the History Makers subject of 2015. The History Makers Pledge is, "Today, I Commit to my education. I do so realizing that a lot is expected of me. I do so knowing that I will have to study and work hard. I do so wanting to avoid anyone and anything that will tempt me not to succeed. I do so in respect and honor of the History Makers who have paved a way for me. I do so because I want to be the best that I can be. Today, I commit to my future based on knowledge of the past. I commit to winning, not losing. I commit to being and becoming the best that I can be. Today, I commit my life to one of excellence". ~Thanks to Mr. O Davis for bringing this special event to us every year.
